

Friday, July 3, 2020

Update: Terrace Garden Food Court

As you may have heard, Washington State is facing a surge of new coronavirus cases and with King County among one of the hardest hit counties. Just recently, we witnessed the state nearly setting a new record for biggest increase in a single day. With this knowledge in hand, our crisis communications and executive team have determined to pause the reopening of our main dining to later this month.

This decision to postpone our original opening date of Monday, June 6th was not made lightly. As we have mentioned in previous memos, Bayview's record of zero COVID-19 cases is due in part by the entire community's efforts and the consistent, prudent, and cautious steps we've taken in rolling out restrictions and protocols. Likewise, we want to be prudent and cautious in reversing these restrictions and avoid threatening the hard-earned progress we've made thus far. Our focus remains on the safety and well-being of residents and staff.

We look forward to announcing a new date in a few weeks. We are hopeful in our continued path forward!

A note: This update does not affect the latest reopening of the Salon and Fitness Center. The measures taken in the reopening of the Salon and Fitness Center are in a more restricted and controlled environment. As always, our team is diligently evaluating and monitoring current and future reopening plans.

Sincerely,

Bayview Crisis Communications & Executive Team

